

DID NOT HONOR G. W.
BY ADJOURNMENT

CONGRESS DIDN'T MARK WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Kept on With Their Business Regardless of the Anniversary—Eloquent and Suggestive Prayer by Dr. Milburn, the Blind Chaylain of the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Rev. Dr. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the senate, opened the session yesterday with a fervid and eloquent prayer, extolling the public and private virtues of George Washington, who, he said, at home and with his neighbors and on the broad stage of national life, showed steadfast devotion to the interests of his country, subordinating his private wish and will to the good of the whole people. Such a noble example might well enter into the character of every American boy and exalt our patriotism, making our national institutions the safeguard of all social, religious and private institutions.

A bill was passed donating condemned cannon to the State Soldiers' Home at Rosebud, Oregon.

Senator Quay presented a memorial from the Manufacturers' Club, of Philadelphia, strongly urging that the cause of financial distress was the assault on the American protective system and indignantly protesting against the course of the President in borrowing money from a foreign syndicate. The memorial closes with an earnest appeal to senators and members to so adjust tariff duties as to overcome the distress of the treasury.

Two house bills were passed amending the articles of regulation of the navy.

A spirited contest arose over the construction of the bridge over the Delaware River at Philadelphia. It was finally agreed to take a vote on the subject to-morrow afternoon.

Senator Gorman secured unanimous consent that unobjection cases on the calendar should be taken up at a night session next Tuesday.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up. The pending amendment was that of Mr. Pettigrew (S. D.) that of the $1,043,350 appropriated for industrial and day schools for Indians $515,000 shall be used for contract schools and that 20 per cent of the latter shall be used in purchasing such contract schools as may be offered for sale.

A vote was first taken on the amendment of the appropriation committee, striking out the house provision that the secretary of the interior should reduce the expenditures 20 per cent annually, so that at the end of five years the entire expenditure for sectarian Indian schools shall be at an end. The committee amendment was sustained, yeas, 31; nays, 23. The effect of this was to do away with the house provision for the gradual abandonment of the contract schools during the next five years. The Pettigrew amendment was defeated—yeas, 13; nays, 33. With the changes made the provision for Indian schools makes a reduction of 20 per cent from the expenditure of last year, but leaves future congresses to make such further reductions as they see fit.

The discussion of conditions in the Indian Territory lasted throughout the afternoon.

IN THE HOUSE.

Not Much Interest in the Proceedings Yesterday.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Four large American flags fluttered from the dome of the capitol in honor of Washington's birthday. The house wore a holiday aspect. A vast array of empty benches greeted the speaker when he called the body to order at 11 o'clock, less than fifty members being present.

On motion of Mr. Bynum, of Indiana, the senate joint resolution was adopted extending to Mexico the thanks of congress for the high honors paid to Isaac P. Gray, the late United States minister to that country.

The speaker announced the following appointments: Visitors to the military academy, Messrs. Wheeler of Alabama, Washington of Tennessee and Milliken of Georgia and Hull of Iowa.

Mr. Martin, of Indiana, chairman of the committee on invalid pensions, asked unanimous consent to extend the evening session at night (for the consideration of private pension bills) to 12 o'clock. Mr. Jones, of Virginia, objected.

The general deficiency bill was taken up, and when the paragraph relating to the eleventh census were reached Mr. Hepburn (rep., Iowa) wanted to know when the reports of the census would be published. Five years had elapsed, he said, and yet but two of the twenty-six volumes had reached the public.

Mr. Breckinridge, in charge of the bill, replied that all the material would be in the hands of the printer by March 1 and the volume would be published thereafter as rapidly as possible.

Without completing consideration of the bill the committee arose. The house took a recess until 8 o'clock. The night session was devoted to the consideration of private pension bills.

THINK HE DIDN'T MEAN IT.

Members of Congress Believe Cleveland Joked About Extra Session.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Member of the house who are supposed to know something of the purpose of President Cleveland do not credit reports that he has any definite intention to call an extra session of congress. They do not claim to know what the intentions of the President may be, but they argue from circumstances that an extra session is improbable. The outflow of gold from the treasury has ceased for the time and these members believe, reflecting, perhaps, the current opinion in administration circles, that the recent bond issue will tide the government over for several months, perhaps put the treasury on its feet, so to speak, if the prediction of Secretary Carlisle that the receipts are to meet expenditures be fulfilled. Much capital has been made of a remark which the President made yesterday to a party of members-elect who called upon him, asking them how they would like to be called to Washington on the 15th of March. The general opinion is that Mr. Cleveland was merely joking, or that if he had any design in the question it was a diplomatic one. They suppose that President Cleveland does not desire to call a special session of the LIVth congress and that he might have intended to spur congress to finish all its necessary work by hinting that he would not hesitate to call the next congress together if there was need.

INCREASE OF THE NAVY.

Senate Committee Favors the Provision Adopted by the House.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The senate naval affairs committee has adopted a resolution recommending the increase of the navy as provided in the naval appropriation bill as passed by the house. The action taken was merely an expression on the part of the committee to the senate committee on appropriations. The committee also agreed to report an amendment to the naval bill appropriating $100,000 for a dockyard at Mare Island, and another providing that officers of the navy detailed for shore duty shall receive sea pay while performing this duty. The latter amendment passed the senate as a part of the naval bill of last session, but was defeated in the house.

Hatch Wants Dairy Tests Printed.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Chairman Hatch of the agricultural committee says he proposes to demand a vote in the house upon the resolution to print the dairy tests made at the World's Fair, which resolution was adversely reported by the committee on printing on account of cost involved. Mr. Hatch also hopes to pass the pure food bill at this session and has appealed to the committee on rules for a day for its consideration.

Silver Men in Secret Conference.

Washington, Feb. 23.—A number of members of the Bimetallic league met here yesterday for conference. The greatest secrecy was maintained as to the conference. ## Report on Wabash Canal.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Representative Cooper of Indiana yesterday presented to the house a report on his bill to appropriate $10,000 for a survey of a route for a canal from the southern shores of Lake Michigan to the Ohio River below Evansville, via the Wabash. The report strongly recommends the construction of the canal at the earliest possible time.

Interment Takes Place at Union City—Citizens Show Their Respect.

Union City, Ind., Feb. 23.—The Gray funeral train arrived here at 11:30 o'clock yesterday. Large crowds were at the stations along the route. At Winchester the casket was opened and the remains viewed by many people. Thousands were at the depot when the train reached here. Business was suspended and nearly all the buildings were draped. The train was met by a committee of citizens. The casket containing the remains was carried to Cadwallader's opera house and placed on a bier. At 12 o'clock two lines of people, each two squares in length, were waiting to view the body. They came in from all the neighboring towns. Nine hundred school children, each carrying a flag, were standing in line. Services were held in the opera house at 3 o'clock. Rev. H. A. McDonald of the Presbyterian church delivered the funeral sermon. Throughout the day the services were solemnly impressive. Immediately after interment the special train carrying Mrs. Gray and the relatives left for Indianapolis.

Used Dynamite on Bank Vaults.

Thomaston, Conn., Feb. 23.—Three men, of whom no description can be obtained, used dynamite to blow off the doors of the Thomaston Savings bank vault at 1 o'clock this morning, securing all the cash in the vault.

Citizens who were aroused by the explosion were driven back at the muzzle of revolvers in the hands of the men. The bank refused to give any statement of the loss, except that it is small, but it is known that $200 in gold was taken, besides other cash. The men are supposed to have driven toward Waterbury, but no trace of them has been found. The town has offered a reward of $200.

Strong Case Against Morgan.

Crutchfield, the express messenger who was robbed, identified Morgan, who was in court, as the robber. Searcy was placed on the stand and told the story of the robbery, fully identifying Morgan.

FIRE IN A COLLEGE
PUT MANY IN PERIL

BEAVER, PA., FEMALE SEMINARY BURNED THIS MORNING.

Students All Got Out in Safety—Norm's Big Saw and Planing Mill at Standish, Michigan, Goes Up in Smoke—Further Details From Hot Springs.

Beaver, Pa., Feb. 23.—The Beaver Female college burned this morning. The students all escaped in safety.

Standish, Mich., Feb. 23.—Norm's saw and planing mill burned this morning. The loss will reach $25,000 with but light insurance.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 23.—As far as known six people are burned to death and four and a half blocks of the best residence and business portion of the city are smoking ruins. At 4 o'clock yesterday morning the alarm of fire sounded. When the department arrived the new three-story residence of H. M. Huggins and the Ledgerwood bakery were in flames and beyond saving. These and the houses adjoining were frame structures, and in ten minutes the fire had spread to half a dozen buildings. Fanned by a strong wind from the north, it swept everything as tinder before it. In a twinkling the flames had crossed the street and soon the Ouachita hotel and the Oak Lawn were at the mercy of the destroying element.

Aroused by the shouts and roaring of the flames the occupants rushed from the burning buildings barefoot and in their bedroom attire, and women, men and children stood huddled together on the wet streets sorrowfully watching the destruction of their all. Others, crippled and half asleep, were burned to death or suffered excruciating agonies before they could get out of the buildings or be rescued. Confusion and panic reigned for three efforts. The efforts of the local firemen were supplemented by the United States hospital corps of firemen. Deeds of heroism unnumbered were done. The efforts of the firemen were time and again frustrated by the intensity of the heat, the rapidly spreading fire burning up the lines of hose on the streets, leaving only a gray streak to designate where they had lain. Household goods taken from the houses and placed where they were supposed to be out of harm's way disappeared as if by magic, and out of nearly 100 houses consumed the goods of not a half dozen were saved. The flames jumped astonishing distances, and soon the fire burning outward from the starting place, was licking up everything within four blocks.

Six persons are known to have been burned to death, and rumor tells of others missing. The number of fatalities may be increased to a score.

Among the known dead are: Hiscow, Mrs. Maggie, housekeeper at the Oak Lawn. Negro, name unknown. Sammonson, Mrs. Mary, 70 years of age. Wing, D. W., of Glen Falls, N. Y. Escaped the flames, but remembered he had $1,800 in the house and rushed back to secure it.

A man named Hill, from Chicago, one of whose arms was paralyzed, is reported as among the dead.

The total loss of the fire will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. A summary of the losses has not been made up as yet. Nearly all the buildings in the burned district were without insurance. The total insurance as nearly as can be learned, amounts to $29,000.

TRADE LOOKING UP
R. J. DUN & CO. SAY

NEW LOAN HAS RESTORED CONFIDENCE.

Business Conditions Commencing to Show Signs of Real Improvement—Textile Products Show Few Changes, and Those Downward—Failures of the Week.

New York, Feb. 23.—R. J. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

"The success of the new loan and the great confidence it has given to investors on both sides of the water and to the business men here encourage many to hope that it may be the beginning of a real recovery. Considering the power which control of these bonds gives to regulate foreign exchanges and to prevent export of gold, the transaction has indeed greatly changed the financial situation in spite of the fact that government revenues are still deficient and that domestic trade shows scarcely any gain as yet. The industries are not enlarging production, nor have prices of farm products improved. But a very important source of apprehension and hindrance has, for the time at least, been removed.

Wheat fell to 56 cents last Saturday and has recovered to 57, only a quarter below the price a week ago, while corn, cotton and pork are unchanged, and hogs and lard are a shade lower. Western receipts of wheat are nearly as large as last year, though for three weeks about 40 per cent smaller owing to the storms. The exports are a little larger than a year ago, and yet are not large. Cotton has refused to advance, though there has been much talk about curtailment of acreage this year, and receipts have sharply decreased.

"Dealing in iron and its products are moderate in volume with some discouragement in most branches, though structural works at Pittsburgh are very busy and demand for wire nails and barbed wire has never been surpassed. But nothing is doing in rails, plates and quiet, and bar is as low as ever, though in rather better demand for car works.

"Textile products show few changes, but those downward. Cottons are meeting an indifferent demand and New York mills 4-4 bleached have been reduced to 9½ cents and Lonsdale 4-4 bleached to 5½ cents and in cheaper goods and brown sheetings prices are irregular. A better demand appears for the finer prints, but fancy calicoes are quiet and there is only the average reorder business for dress goods. In light-weight woollens the reorders continue later than usual and the preliminary purchases of medium and low heavy goods are larger than a year ago, some mills having business until April, while in the highest grades there is more promising demands. Sales of wool at the chief markets in three weeks of February were 15,722,050 pounds, against 18,010,800 two years ago.

"The failures for this week have been 302 in the United States against 288 last year and in Canada 36 against 51 last year."

ENGLAND AND BIMETALLISM.

Parliamentary Committee Approves the Resolution of Everett.

London, Feb. 23.—A meeting of the parliamentary committee of the Bimetallic League last night approved the bimetallic resolution which Robert Lacey Everett, representing Southwestern Suffolk, will move Tuesday. The resolution is to the effect that the house of commons regards with increasing apprehension the constant fluctuations and the growing divergence in the relative value of gold and silver and heartily concurs in the recent expression on the part of the government of France and the parliament of Germany regarding the serious evils resulting therefrom. It therefore urges upon the government of England the desirability of co-operating with other nations in an international conference to consider what measures can be taken to rehabilitate silver or mitigate the evils which it is asserted arise from the demonetization of the white metal.

FRENCH CAUGHT IN A TRAP.
Soldiers Killed.

Paris, Feb. 23.—A local paper reports that the French expedition which left Marseilles some months ago under the command of Commandant Montell, for service in the interior of Africa, was surprised and a sanguinary conflict ensued. Three hundred men, comprising half of the force of the expedition, are said to have been killed, while the remainder have been driven from the line of march and their retreat has been cut off. The minister of colonies has received an urgent appeal from the commander of the expedition for reinforcements. Commandant Montell's expedition was intended to join the contingent of Capt. Decaze, which was guarding the Ubangui. It numbered about 600 men and eighteen or twenty officers, for the most part soldiers of the foreign legion and Senegalese, men who besides being well drilled and armed were one and all inured to the African climate. The officers, too, were picked men. The mission was intended to practically assert France's right to the possession of the Hinterland country, extending through the Bar-el-Ghazel to the left bank of the Nile. This is a part of the section of Africa which the treaty between Great Britain and Belgium had nominally turned over to the former.

The treaty, however, was virtually abandoned owing to the French protests, France denying the right of the Belgo-Congolese government to cede the territory to England. It was also intended that Capt. Montell's force should be backed up by two gunboats, several steam launches and lighters for transport purposes. Capt. Montell is well known for a remarkable voyage lasting two years and a half, in the course of which he traversed Africa from west to north, beginning at St. Louis and ending at Tripoli, a voyage the result of which was to increase ten fold French ambition and to lay the foundation of French influence in countries where no Frenchman had set foot.

He was on his way to school with his brother when the accident occurred. The jury in the case of Edward Kelly, the striking motorman who was indicted for malicious injury to a railroad car, last night notified Judge Moore that it could not agree upon a verdict. It was learned the jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal. Kelly was indicted for throwing a stone at a 34 avenue car on Feb. 4.

WOMEN TALK OF THE FLAG

Washington, Feb. 23.—Yesterday, Washington's birthday, the national congress of women, now in session here, chose patriotic subjects for consideration at both its morning and evening sessions. The morning session was divided into two parts, assigned to patriotism as an element in government and patriotism as an element in school government. Kate Brownlee Sherman of Ohio read the report of the committee on patriotic teaching. She then discussed the influence of patriotism in founding and preserving free institutions. She said in part:

"Patriotism does not reach its highest form on the battle field where the trumpets blare and the cannon roar and the general cries, 'Forward!' Splendid is the patriotism that leads a man to die for his country in the forefront of battle, but splendid beyond human speech to depict is the patriotism that leads to the martyr's stake, to the death of humiliation, defeat and the reproach of men. She who leads a temperance crusade is nobler than he who wrenched Jerusalem from the Saracens. He who founds a school is greater than he who builds an armory. A free kindergarten that teaches the use of hand and eye and brain is better than a mission that distributes alms. A national training school of industrial arts would do more for popular advancement in a decade than West Point has done in all the years of its existence."

"The American Flag in the School Room as an Aid to Discipline," was the subject taken by Eliza D. Keith of San Francisco. She said:

"The American flag should be in the school room, especially in every public school room in the United States. Children should be taught that the flag stands for all that is great and glorious in our history; for all that makes us all, even every boy and girl, proud to be Americans. Make the children feel that its presence in the class room is both a protection and a benediction. Make that flag the basis and corner stone of all ceremonies. Let the highest honor in the power of the teacher to bestow, or of a scholar to earn, be the position of custodian of the flag. I have followed this plan for years in the public schools of San Francisco. The recent adoption of the patriotic resolutions in my city asking that the flag salute be a regular part of our course was the outgrowth of this work in one class room, and I have yet to see the first evidence of weariness or indifference in the present class."

SENSATION AT PEORIA.

Culbertson, a well-known lawyer and one of the democratic aspirants for city attorney, before the bar and gave him until Monday to show cause why he should not be attached for contempt of court. ## MANY MADE MERRY AT THE O. R. C. BALL

BRILLIANT EVENT AT THE ARMORY LAST NIGHT.

Charming Music, Handsome Decorations and Complete Arrangements Made It a Pleasant Affair—List of Those Present—Daughters of Rebekah Masquerade.

FROM behind a bank of flowers at the Armory a burst of melody came last night. It was a waltz, and in an instant the whole scene was changed for two rows of happy-faced men and women were promenading when the overture shifted and became a waltz.

It was the tenth annual ball of the Order of Railway Conductors, and, as usual, the party was one of the events of the season. All the arrangements were complete and the guests found nothing lacking. A carryall made regular trips between the Armory and the hotel Myers. A canopy extended from the curbstone to the Armory entrance and brussels carpet was laid from the outside door to the dancing floor.

Inside the Armory the scene was an entrancing one. Professor Smith's excellent orchestra had been augmented by several additional musicians. Eleven pieces composed the band and their music was delightful. The decorations were unusually handsome. Nothing is too good for the conductors and their guests so they had hired an expert decorator from the greenhouses of Clem & Co., Arlington Heights. His work was apparent and many people remarked that they never saw the Armory look so inviting.

Many Flowers Were Used. Each window was hidden or draped with portiers and bouquets of flowers added to the general effect. The orchestra platform was almost hidden in green leaves and bright blooms. From nine o'clock until four, gaiety reigned supreme and every one of the dozen scores of people who took part enjoyed themselves fully. At midnight supper was served at the Hotel Myers and it was all that could be desired. Landlord Miller had fairly outdone himself and a splendid menu was faultlessly served.

Much of the success of the affair was due to the committees who had made such perfect arrangements. They had left no stone unturned and the careful attention bestowed upon the details was made plainly apparent by the smoothness with which the affair went off. L. M. Thomas was chairman of the committee and the other members were C. J. Mahoney, J. A. Johnson, P. J. Dulin and A. E. Rich.

M. O'Brien was chief of the floor committee and was assisted by C. P. Mooney, C. F. Ring, A. J. Philips, G. E. Lamphear, L. W. Carleton, R. F. Moore, Geo. H. Devins, W. A. Cass, J. F. Nightengale and J. H. Leahy.

The reception committee was made up of Messrs. and Mesdames W. D. Cantillon, J. H. Burns, T. J. Crowley, George H. Devins, N. Dunwiddie, R. K. Duffield, C. P. Mooney, J. H. Dower, L. M. Thomas, A. J. Philips, Thomas McDonald, L. D. Quayle, E. L. Hurter, F. D. Shugrue, James York, L. W. Carleton, J. C. Quirk, C. C. Jacks, Thomas Butler, C. McCormick, J. E. Marnard, J. F. McCaffery, and E. A. Ostrander. They made the guests feel at home from the minute they entered the hall. The floor committee, too, won much praise for the graceful and expeditious way in which they did the work assigned to them.

The program of dances was unusually attractive and consisted of twenty-one members as follows:

- ORDER OF THE DANCE.
1. Waltz.
  2. Quadrille.
  3. Quadrille.
  4. Waltz.
  5. Two Step.

THE GUESTS WHO WERE THERE.

Many People From Out of Town Attended The Party.

Many guests from abroad attended the party as well as many from Janesville and vicinity. ### AMERICA LODGE'S MASQUE BALL

The Daughters of Rebekah Gave a Pleasant Affair Last Evening.

Seventy-five couples joined in the revelry at Columbia hall last evening, the event being the masquerade given by America Lodge No. 26, Daughters of Rebekah. The gallery was comfortably filled with spectators and all the participants had a merry time. The general committee who had the affair in charge had spent much time in perfecting the arrangements. B. F. Blanchard was the chairman, the other members being John P. Wright, Mrs. Otto Kemp, Mrs. Tucker and Miss Beatrice Preller. The floor managers were B. F. Blanchard, T. T. Blakely and Herman Baerman. Tuckwood's orchestra of four pieces furnished excellent music and the fun lasted until 2:30 o'clock this morning.

There were many notable costumes among the gay throng. C. J. Blakely appeared as an old woman and acted his part to perfection. Misses Minnie Stanton and Josie Hankey took the parts of a peep girl and a sailor lass while Harry Wright appeared as the King of Hearts. Eddie Earlight's make up as a ghost was excellent while nobody recognized Mrs. C. J. Blakely and Mrs. B. F. Blanchard who were dressed as nurses. Walter Rice was dressed as a Columbian guard stationed at the Fisheries building and his costume was without doubt the most attractive in the hall.

CAN WORK WITH COMFORT.

This Has A Mighty Meaning For Millions.

How Many People Work With Effort And In Misery.

This Is a Revelation To The Workers Of Our Country.

"I can do my work with comfort. What restful strength, what happiness, what power of enjoyment pervade the very words!"

What a world of meaning they carry to our over-worked people, sinking under the weight of work and cares, who silently bear the thousand weaknesses, the pains, the aches, the lasting fatigue, the terrible exhaustion, the utter brain and body tire, with which their daily round of toil is done!

If only my head did not ache! If only my back was free from pain! If only I had the strength to do my work, and did not get so weak, so tired, so terribly exhausted!

These are distressful cries, heard on every hand from nerve-weakened, brain-fagged and bodily exhausted men, and from weak, tired, nervous and dragged-out women.

Like a trumpet-tongued incarnation of hope, therefore, come the words of Mr. Charles S. Morgan, of Littleton, N. H.

MR. CHAS. S. MORGAN.

"About one year ago I was in a very bad state of health, being completely worn out by indigestion and nervous debility.

"I was subject to sick headaches once in about three or four days, and when they were upon me I was completely prostrated and confined to my bed. The coming so often and so hard used up all my strength, and made me most discouraged.

"My physician said that I must have rest before I could get better, and my sick headache spells were coming pretty thick. I decided to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, hearing so much about the wonderful cures, and I am rejoiced that I did, for my troubles all left me, being so relieved from my sick headaches, indigestion and nervous debility, that I am now able to work comfortably and enjoy general good health.

"We have all used in our family at least eighteen bottles, and I have nothing but good to say about it. My mother was overworked and was prostrated from caring for the sick. She has taken the medicine and has been helped the most by it of any she has used, and uses it when run down with invariable good effects.

"My husband used it for indigestion with the same good results.

"We can, and do most gladly recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for the good of others."

MRS. CHAS. S. MORGAN.

If you would do your work with comfort, if you would be free from aches and pains, and all weakness of nerves and weariness of body, use this grand giver of health and strength, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It will make you well and strong, give you vigor, vitality, energy, power, ambition and endurance. It is the best spring tonic and restorative in the world, and now is the best time to take it.

Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York City. If you take this medicine you can consider yourself under Dr. Greene's direct professional care, and you can consult or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that his remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

Promptness is a commendable virtue. That's why we offer you One Minute Cough Cure. It is prompt in relief and prompt in curing. That is what it is made for. C. D. Stevens.

FORD AND REV. BOWE TO FIGHT NO MORE

CELEBRATED FEUD WILL PROBABLY DIE OUT NOW.

The Transfer of the Latter Will Doubtless Have a Quieting Effect—Congregation and Temperance Society Give the Priest Presents and a Blessing in Parting.

The Ford-Bowe feud at Edgerton is now probably settled for good, and the transfer of Father Bowe to another parish will doubtless end the troubles that have made Edgerton and the participants famous.

The trouble started some time ago when M. H. Ford, the shoe merchant, began to court Father Bowe's niece. Father Bowe disapproved of the shoe dealer's suit, but the wedding took place. Then, it was alleged, Father Bowe began sending Mrs. Ford comic valentines, with inscriptions written thereon. A suit for slander followed, and after the case had dragged along for some time, it came to trial in Dane county, and a judgment for $5,000 was given the plaintiff. This judgment, as far as the paper it was written on, for no property belonging to the priest could be found.

The second chapter came in the form of the ejection of Attorney M. J. Feeney, the Edgerton lawyer, from the grounds at a picnic given in Porter. Feeney had been the attorney for Ford in the action that was then just begun.

Feeney Brought Suit.

Feeney was escorted outside the grounds, notwithstanding that he had bought a ticket the same as the other participants. His ejection was followed by a suit but it was finally settled outside of court.

The last chapter was the fight between Ford and the priest which occurred some days ago. Ford met Father Bowe on the street, and the latter, the story goes, addressed an uncomplimentary remark to the shoe man. In the fight that followed Father Bowe was rather roughly handled. Since then he had not been seen on the streets very much and his transfer did not occasion much surprise. When the order came, Father Bowe drove to Janesville and took the team from here.

While Edgerton people criticize Father Bowe for his faults they are free to admit that he had his good traits as well.

Did Much Good.

The Reporter in its last issue said: "Some of his labors here have been attended with much good to the congregation and community generally. He was the founder of Father Matthews' T. A. & B. society, now one of the largest of the kind in the state and the high moral standard of its workings is marked by the sobriety and thrift of its many members. Father Bowe's pastorate has not been all sunshine, and his vindictive nature has caused him many a time to appear at the bar of justice on charges wholly unbecoming to a minister. His last sermon was scarcely tinged with a kindly spirit which ought to exist between pastor and parishioners, and this is probably accounted for from the fact that he believed himself to be a wrongly persecuted man and has grown morose in disposition during the past few years of trouble.

Given Costly Presents.

"Notwithstanding this, in the church he had many followers and admirers who testified to their loyalty at a farewell gathering on Monday when he was presented with several valuable and costly presents. Father Bowe goes to Monches, Waukesha county, and Father J. E. Harlin of that place is assigned the charge of St. Joseph's church. Father Harlin is known to many Edgerton people, having been curate of Father McGinnity's in Janesville for several years. He comes with good recommendations both as a citizen and a worker of the church over which he is to preside."

"Delegations from St. Joseph's parish of Edgerton, and St. Michael's parish of Porter, showed their appreciation for the good work done, by waiting on him and presenting him with an elegant gold chalice and also a liberal purse.

T. A. & B. Society Give Him a Badge.

"Also the temperance societies of each parish of which Rev. J. F. Bowe was the founder and which at the present time has the largest number of enrolled members of any such organization in the state, showed their appreciation by presenting him with suitable purses and also F. M. T. A. B. S. presented him with an elegant gold badge. On that occasion a suitable address was delivered by J. W. Loughran of Edgerton which was re-sponsored by the reverend gentleman in a pleasing and touching manner.

Following is the address:

"Reverend and dear father, this is a pleasing, though difficult and in some respects a sorrowful task imposed upon us this afternoon, to voice the sentiments of those who have known and respected you for so many years. Here you meet a committee representative of the many warm and dear friends whom you have made during your seventeen years of labor among us. They come as dutiful children to tender you their heartfelt thanks for what you have done for them and thine.

Gave Him Their Blessing.

Your labor among us has not been devoid of fruit. Two large congregations filled with the spirit of faith and piety attest the fruit of your tender care. You need but turn to your temperance societies, the special fruit of your apostolic zeal. That portion of the vineyard allotted to your special care has blossomed and borne fruit. The pruning knife has been used with care, the vines well arranged and new shoots grafted on. The prospects for the future are promising. But a change is about to come to you, one about to leave us, to go to a new field, to form new friendships and perfect the work begun by others. But when you do go you may rest assured that you will not be forgotten by your friends at Edgerton, and that in years to come your name will be a household word, and mothers will teach their lisping children the lessons they learned from the good priest, Father Bowe, and all will praise God for the benefits which He bestowed on them through His worthy servant, and as a token of the respect which we bear you, we offer you this gold chalice, emblematic of the good work you have done among us and symbolical of the gold crown that awaits you in Heaven. As your first thought was our spiritual welfare, we ask you to still continue to remember us at the holy altar of God. May the blessing of God accompany you and may the light of his glory shine around and above you.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nervine she now weighs 105 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nervine has brought her."

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate. —Mrs. R. K. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

In the edifice of health is vigor, which means not merely muscular energy but an active discharge of the various functions of the body, such as digestion, secretion of the bile, the action of the bowels, the circulation of the blood. Nothing more actively and thoroughly contributes to the united performance of these functions than the renowned tonic and regulator, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The result of its use is a speedy gain in strength, together with the agreeable consciousness that the tenure of life is being strengthened—that one is living up a store of vitality against the unavoidable draughts which old age makes upon the system. The fortifying influence of the Bitters constitutes a reliable safeguard against malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble. Appetite and sleep improve through its use, and it protects the system from the effects of cold and damp.

THE OFFICIAL CITY PAPER.

"GIVE US A REST."

Seven days more and the country will be at rest because of the final adjournment of a congress that has been a menace and a burden to the nation since August, 1893.

Like an invalid that has been annoyed by too much attention, the country needs the tonic of absolute rest.

Enough money has been borrowed to keep the ship of state afloat until December. The silver question need time to recuperate, and there is no reason why a patient and long suffering people should not be permitted to quietly gather up the fragments of shattered fortunes, and after adjusting themselves to the new conditions start life anew, without congressional aid or interference.

The nation possesses wonderful vitality, as well as great adaptability, and while the past two years have brought wreck and ruin to thousands of industries, and abject poverty to tens of thousands of homes, because of enforced idleness, yet the star of hope is still above the horizon and confidence inspired by faith, will speedily displace discouragement and in the nine months that will intervene, of rest from legislative annoyance, the country will make wonderful strides toward prosperity.

Tokens of new life and better days are already apparent; railroad earnings are increasing; clearing houses are showing larger transactions; industrial enterprises are slowly but steadily gaining ground; the labor market is not so heavily overstocked; the spirit of restlessness that prompted Coxeyism, socialism and the long train of factions and heresies that follow in the wake of general depression, is quieting down, and the life of the nation is again assuming its normal and healthy condition.

President Cleveland and his over-worked cabinet need a long and restful vacation. The newly elected congressmen can profitably spend the summer cultivating the wants of their constituency. "Give us a rest" borders largely on slang, but it expresses very tersely what the country needs today.

The new bond issue was placed in London in two hours, and gold encou. b was offered to take fifteen times the amount of the issue.

New York will soon have an underground railway from the lower part of the city to 185th street.

The recent election in Philadelphia indicates that the republican party is still at high tide.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured J. G. Gorrell of the worst case of eczema ever known in the state of Indiana. It cures scalds, burns, indolent sores and never fails to cure piles. C. D. Stevens.

In these days of telephone, telegraph, electricity and steam, people cannot afford to wait days or as many hours for relief. This is our reason for offering you One Minute Cough Cure. Neither days, nor hours, or even minutes elapse before the relief is afforded. C. D. Stevens.

A DAY ON THE CITY STREETS

"O. Williams: You will remember my ordering one-half dozen Hale's Cough Cordial of you about two years ago. At that time I was painfully annoyed by a very severe cough, being able to attend to business but a small part of the time. A friend here in the city had been cured of a worse cough than mine by Hale's Cough Cordial, and insisted on my trying it. I did try it, and less than one bottle cured me perfectly.—E. M. Jacks, with J. V. Fa well & Co., Chicago. For sale by Prentice & Evenson.

For a month while engaged nightly in public speaking, I had suffered with an annoying cough which stubbornly resisted the various cough remedies that I had taken. Through the advice of friends I fortunately gave Hale's Cough Cordial a trial, when my coughing ceased at once, and the following day it had done its work completely and I felt all right.—Hon. Jas. Ross, Grand Lecturer J. O. G. T., of Wisconsin. For sale by Prentice & Evenson.

No, thank you. We must decline your challenge. We are too busy selling out the Marzuff line to scrap with anybody. Save your postage; you will need it some day. The country house is heated by steam and nearly full. We are selling shoes. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

The question has been asked as to what business Green & Allen are in. They are plumbers, gas and steam fitters at No. 6 Milwaukee street, on the bridge, and any work entrusted to them will receive the best of attention, and the prices will be within the reach of all humanity.

We are showing no old, unseasonable goods. Have none in the house. All new, this season's production, and we pledge our word to sell 20 per cent cheaper than any other such dealer in the town. Bort, Bailey & Co.

Every day is a special sale day with us. We always divide the profits and when you have studied the prices quoted elsewhere, come to us and we'll save you 20 per cent. Bort, Bailey & Co.

On every dollar you spend at Lloyd & Son's, 57 West Milwaukee street today, you not only save the profit but get the shoes for 25 cents on the dollar less than they paid the wholesaler.

AN INJURED ANIMAL TOOK A LONG RUN.

A Broken Cutter Had Gashed Its Legs Until Killing It Was the Only Course Left, As Many Arteries and Cords Were Cut—Other News of the City.

With blood dripping from its legs as it ran, and leaving a trail behind it, Max Grampe's horse dashed through the streets last night. When it was finally stopped it was found to be so badly hurt that killing it was the only course. The horse was attached to a cutter and was driven by Mr. Grampe. While descending Court street the animal took fright and became unmanageable. It dashed down Court across the bridge thence up Pleasant to Academy street and continued on to Western avenue. The cutter was smashed and the horse's legs were cut in a severe manner, a number of arteries and cords being severed by fragments of the cutter. A trail of blood was left on the Academy street and that plainly indicated the course the horse took.

WHICH ONE WILL WIN THE MAHONEY PRIZE?

CONTEST FOR SCHOLARS COMES NEXT MONTH

The Medal Is Offered For the Best Extemporaneous Speech Delivered In Public—Preliminary Contests Have Been Held For Some Weeks—Pupils Are Working Hard.

"Who will win the Mahoney medal?" That is the question that interests the Janesville High School pupils just now.

The medal was provided by Attorney J. L. Mahoney about a year ago and is to be awarded to the pupil in the High School who should excel in extemporaneous speech as should be determined by judges at a public contest. Mr. Mahoney believes that the young people in our schools should be encouraged to speak concisely and freely and to the point while "on their feet before the public." Such an ability gives a person a great advantage in public life, and makes the thinking much more logical and acute. In the public contest pupils are expected to speak on a topic, which shall be given to them by a committee with no previous preparations and with but a few minutes to "collect their thoughts."

To Complete Next Month.

The contest will take place before the public, sometimes about the middle of next month. Preliminary contests have been going on in the various classes of the high school for the past five months to determine who shall appear in the public contests. The final preliminary contest will take place next week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons in the high school room.

On the evening of the contest there will be contests in declamation and in original oration. Suitable prizes will be awarded for excellence in these departments.

A small admission fee will be charged on the evening of the public contest and it is hoped that some money may be secured for the piano fund.

BOY WAS ROBBED IN CHICAGO.

John Williams Lost His All While Seeing The Garden City Sights.

A young man giving his name as John Williams and claiming Watertown as his home, was in town yesterday looking for a loan on a gold watch. He wanted enough money to pay his way to Minneapolis and said that after leaving home about a year ago he worked in a shoe factory at De Kalb, Ill. After he had saved thirty dollars he wanted to see Chicago and he did. The first thing he did was to buy his ticket home so as to be sure to have it. As he stepped up to the ticket window at the Northwestern depot two strangers "happened to be there," one on each side of him. The one on the left tapped him on the shoulder, and as he looked around the stranger on the right snatched his pocket book which contained thirty dollars and ran away. That is the last Williams saw of him, and both made good their escape.

No Signs of Hard Times.

One would think to visit the factory of the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co., at 304 Wall street, that the country was still safe and the "hard time cry" was unknown to them. The reporter visited this enterprising firm this week and found them running to their full capacity on buggies, surreys, etc., with their books full of orders. They have been shipping for two months and still have orders ahead to last way into the summer. In walking through their factory one is impressed with the fine quality of material this company is using, everything being the very best the market affords. In the repository stood the old reliable Wisconsin King, which this year we believe will be the best buggy in the market and the company challenge the world to produce a better buggy for the money. There was also some new designs that undoubtedly will attract attention this year, among which was their Belwood Trap, and their Wisconsin Queen Surrey. These jobs have got to be seen to be appreciated and we advise any one, whether they intend to buy or not, to visit this factory and call for one of the handsome catalogues that was ever published in the city.

No Others Need Apply.

I wish to say to the young men that I do not care for and will pay no attention to any further correspondence in answer to my "ad" in Wednesday's Gazette as I have a steady fellow now. I think that most of those who replied thought more of the $500 than they did of me, but the young man whom I have accepted says he did not notice anything about $500.

Now in regard to the many inquiries, which I have received concerning the Empress Josephine Toilet Preparations I wish to say that I consider them very fine preparations and all that they are recommended to be, I also wish to express my thanks to Mr. Stevens for samples given me and would advise all lady friends to call at his store, corner Main and Milwaukee streets and secure the same. Believe me, sincerely your friend, NELLIE H.

"CHARITY AUCTION" "PANED OUT" WELL

A SMALL CROWD DID RATHER LIVELY BIDDING.

F. S. Winslow Bought a Box For $20; J. A. Fathers Got Another For $15; Captain Vankirk Purchased the Third For $15 and Mayor Thoroughgood the Fourth For $12.

Captain Pliny Norcross posed as the charity auctioneer at the "knock-down" sale of seats in the opera house this afternoon. There was not a large attendance, but the bidding for a time, especially for choice of boxes, was quite lively.

The first choice was started at $5, and was sold to Captain W. T. Vankirk for $15. The second choice was started at $6, and sold to F. S. Winslow at $20. Third choice started at $7, and sold to J. A. Fathers at $15. The fourth choice was started at $10, and sold to Mayor Thoroughgood at twelve dollars. Captain Vankirk started the fourteen balcony seats at fifty cents each, and they were sold to Mayor Thoroughgood at sixty cents. Captain Vankirk took the twenty-eight dress circle seats at fifty cents each, his purchase closing the sale. Captain Norcross bid fifteen dollars for seven seats in the fourth row of the dress circle, but did not secure the seats as they had not been advertised for sale at auction.

SHE MARRIED BOTH.

Mr. Wilberforce Trott, lawyer, of the firm of Lunkenstein & Trott, was the picture of prosperity and contentment, sitting in his office in the most luxuriantly appointed office building in town. His private office, where we find him, was a poem in hard wood and stucco, but its spick and span cleanliness denoted its newness. In fact, Mr. Trott had not always occupied quarters like these. Indeed as he sat in his rotary chair, puffing the smoke from a Colorado maduro with a sultanic air of limitless wealth, Mr. Trott's elegant surroundings bore the gloss of a week's existence and not a day more. Not that he wore the new conditions with any the less grace on that account, however. Any one to have observed him critically would have acknowledged the aristocratic repose of his regular features and the exquisite taste of his fashionable apparel. But the fact remains that Mr. Trott a week before had been a struggling young attorney with an inchoate practice and an unreliable sequence as to meals.

As there are no such things as fairy wands to change hungry lawyers into well fed barristers, the truth may as well be admitted—Mr. Trott had hit the races. The $10,000 retainer from a delightfully mysterious corporation in the west, which he assured his friends was the basis of his new magnificence, was in reality a winning of that amount on cluster horses upon whose combined speed he had made a bet after the manner current among the poolrooms. For all this Mr. Trott was by no means a "sport." He was unquestionably a young man of talent who would be heard from one of these days, and who knew what it meant to "toil terribly."

The reason that we do not find him at work with his books directly concerns our interest in this lucky youth, for Mr. Trott's thoughts were floating back over five long years of professional vicissitudes, as dreamily as the smoke that curled aloft over his blond head, until they rested upon a face of dark, healthy beauty, surmounted by curling locks as black as the tender eyes whose depths he had once celebrated in a feeble quatrain, with the opinion that they rivaled the glories of a starlit night. He had truly been desperately in love with Alice Monroe, a fact that had been fully appreciated by that dainty little despot, who not only accepted all his attentions in the way of theater tickets, balls and bouquets, but pouted for more. All of these things had been the despair of poor, young Mr. Trott, who wondered how he was ever to marry a girl whose trivial expenses per week exceeded his income at the bar per month. To render the situation even more poignant she repeatedly declared that the man she married would have to have money. In her heartless opinion love in a cottage was unqualified bosh. Often he had exclaimed to the four walls of his dingy room:

"She is vain, flaunting, extravagant and unworthy an honest fellow's toil."

On every fine Sunday afternoon, for her sweet sake, he had hired a yellow cart and a large black horse with a stride like the course of empire, whose tan colored harness was the swiftest thing that graced the Clifton drives on that day. The swiftest? Alas, no! There was one rig that excelled that of Mr. Trott, even as the white glory of the diamond excels the dull gray of the topaz. And in that rig sat the bete noir of Mr. Trott—the one being on earth whom he hated with the cheerful, cordial hate of a lover for a rival.

The name of this party was Messerschmidt, a cool, imperturbable gentleman, the unruffled impudence of whose small, steady eyes had taken Mr. Trott's measure on the night that they had first met in Miss Monroe's parlor and were ever since noting the details of Mr. Trott's suit with a stolid Teutonic amusement that betokened their owner's confidence in his own supremacy. As a rival Mr. Messerschmidt was indeed peculiarly dangerous in the possession of a gigantic soap factory, inherited from a simple minded parent who would have turned in his grave with astonishment had he seen what his son had done for the old concern since its founder's death, for the plant had undergone the mysterious process known only to the subtle promoter who capitalizes a small enterprise into a colossal one by the locus pocus of the "street."

Never in his life had Mr. Trott claimed the society of the capricious Miss Monroe on one of those bright afternoons but what Mr. Messerschmidt could be seen in his gorgeous turnout, riding insolently alongside or else taking the road in a manner even more insolent just in front. This gentleman's presence was not only obtruded upon them at these times, but he seemed to divine by a diabolical instinct just when and where to find them together. If Mr. Trott took Miss Monroe to the theater, the other party invariably had a seat nearby which he would change for one immediately next to the couple and engage them in conversation with a mild, insinuating assurance that used to irritate the young lawyer to the point of insanity. When he took Miss Monroe to the Art museum—a favorite ruse of his to get her away from possible intruders—his ubiquitous rival was there also, suave, calm, entertaining, agonizing!

Just why Miss Monroe tolerated this insidious personage had been more than Mr. Trott could understand. She averred that he bored her, and that she was disgusted with his social stupidity, but Mr. Trott noticed that she displayed far more cordiality toward him than was consistent with these assertions. Having the temerity to tax her with this palpable fact one evening, she petulantly admitted that the only obstacles that lay between her and the omnipotent Messerschmidt was his name and his business. She did not fancy becoming a queen of society under the title of a soap factory that had to have its works extended in order to make room for the name on the buildings. She would much rather marry the man who had become the most celebrated jurist of his time. Saying this, she had looked wistfully at the modest Mr. Trott, who had been trying to convince her for several weeks that such was his brilliant destiny; that he was, in fact, already on the highroad to success and revenue.

As his mind dwelt on that scene Mr. Trott's visage lost some of its tranquil contentment on this morning as he sat in the office, dreaming of what might have been, for he rather blamed Providence for having failed to place him on the supreme bench at 23.

Accidentally his eye rested on the polished oak cover of his typewriter in the corner, and he smiled bitterly at the associations conjured up by that implement of modern correspondence. Well he remembered a certain morning in early June when Miss Monroe took it into her capricious head to visit him at his palatial quarters—as he had represented them to her in order to keep pace with the plutocratic Messerschmidt. As usual, that worthy was tagging placidly at her side.

Mr. Trott shuddered with retrospective horror as he thought of the hideous catastrophe of that visit and pictured the scene before him. There was Alice, as blooming and richly handsome as a Jacqueminot rose, radiating a delicate perfume, like the flower itself, which fairly intoxicated the young lawyer. The complaisant and phlegmatic Messerschmidt near by wore his usual smile of vacant urbanity, but in his small gray eyes shone the light of a demoniacal triumph, and as he watched Alice sweep the office with her keen eyes and gather in every shabby detail of the office, from the bare floor to the dilapidated desks, he visibly exulted at the disgust in her countenance. Then she spoke. She had just dropped in to pay her respects as she passed the building. She was delighted to find his quarters so very comfortable looking! Then Messerschmidt sniffed at the atmosphere like a warhorse that scents the aroma of battle afar. Unerringly those little gray eyes fastened upon the cover of Mr. Trott's typewriter.

"What make of typewriter do you prefer, Mr. Trott?" asked Mr. Messerschmidt, innocently raising the cover and disclosing—not a typewriter, but the meager and unsightly remains of some corned beef and cabbage, on which Mr. Trott had been dining.

That had been five years ago, and Mr. Trott had not tasted a dish of corned beef and cabbage since. The odor of that barbarous mixture used thereafter to make him both sick at the stomach and sick at heart—he, who had once been so fond of it!

Messerschmidt married her that fall, but Mr. Trott had never called upon them since the event.

Suddenly he threw his cigar from him and exclaimed:

"Hang it! What do I care? I'll hunt her up and call for the sole purpose of showing her that!"

His vehemence came to an abrupt stop. He started erect and listened like a man transfixed to the sound of a soft, anxious voice in the other office that was inquiring:

"Is this a lawyer's office?"

"Yes, madam," returned Mr. Trott's partner affably. "What can we do for you?"

"I wish to get a divorce," said a voice, more timidly still and trembling on the verge of tears. "My husband is a wretch!"

Mr. Trott interrupted the speech, radiant, precipitate, his voice vibrating with unmistakable joy.

"Alice!" he cried as he opened the door with a rush.

The young lady rose in astonishment at the figure before her.

"Is it possible?" she faltered.

He took her hand and drew her inside his office with gentle force, leaving his mystified partner staring speechlessly at the vacated seat.

"What has he been doing to you, Alice?" cried Mr. Trott, holding her hand and looking as vindictive as a Corsican.

"He's been deserting me," she said.

"What, that harmless looking, moon faced idiot?"

"Was a horrid, despicable scoundrel!" retorted Mrs. Messerschmidt, with appropriate tact.

And then, while Mr. Trott listened and held her hand, she poured forth a tale of such heartrending cruelty that he wept also.

"Did you ever hear anything like it, Wilber?" she asked appealingly, contracting his name as she used to do when he had pleased her.

Mr. Trott replied with an impulsive embrace and an unexpected kiss.

"But I am Mrs. Messerschmidt!" she exclaimed in demure alarm, drawing from him.

"That's so!" said Mr. Trott soberly. "The disability will have to be removed before a prior courtship can be reinstated—ahem! By the way, Alice, have you seen my new typewriter?" uncovering the machine with a mischievous grin. "What do you think of it?"

"It doesn't look as palatable as the old one, Wilber," she said, laughing and drying her tears.

"But it isn't nearly as embarrassing," he returned. "Your petition for absolute divorce shall be prepared upon it—without alimony—for I wouldn't touch a cent of his oleaginous money, confound him!"

"Just as you say, Wilber," she said resignedly, dropping her eyes, with a blush.

And Mr. Trott's partner in the outer office took his eye from the keyhole and observed contentedly:

"Pisness is pooming!"—Julius Wedekind in Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Ratio of Size to Price.

"You don't want that $25 hat, Mary," said Mr. Muggins, who was with his wife in the milliner's store. "It's too big, anyhow. Now, if the milliner could only take off four or five feathers it would be all right."

"That's easy," interposed the milliner, sweetly, suiting the action to the word. "I take them off so—see? And there you have a love of a little bonnet."

And then, as Mr. Muggins felt for his pocketbook smilingly, thinking of the economy he had effected, she added: "Now it's only $50."—Chicago Record.

WHAT BABY WILL GET THE GAZETTE'S $500

THAT IS THE PRIZE TO BE AWARDED JUNE 1.

The Brightest, Sweetest and Loveliest Child in the City Will Be Given Five Shares of Paid Up Stock in the Rock County Building & Loan Association.

The sweetest, brightest and loveliest baby in Janesville gets $500 from The Gazette June 1.

Whose is that baby? That question sounds easy. As if there was the least doubt whose baby is the loveliest," says every proud mother looking at her own olive branch. And that's the trouble. Talk it over until Christmas you may but never expect to get a convention of mothers to agree on the baby question.

For the benefit of jealous parents, anxious aunts and uncles and proud brothers and sisters of older growth, however, the matter should be settled. And settled it is to be.

How?

Why not by vote? That plan seems the fairest and most satisfactory—the safest too, for who would dare judge among the hundreds of dimpled darlings that grace the Bower City. A vote will decide, therefore, and all Janesville may cast their ballots. Three months from the day the polls open a $500 block of stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association will be turned over to the infant with the strongest "drag", as politicians would put it.

Five hundred dollars. A handsome nest egg for any infant.

Put out at interest until the little one reaches maturity and it swells to proportions even more impressive. And in building association stock with all dues paid it is in very desirable form.

The association selected is known to everybody in the city. These are the officers and directors who testify to its solidity. These are the men:

President—Samuel C. Cobb.
First Vice President—Alex. Graham.
Second Vice President—W. H. Judd.
Attorney—Charles E. Pierce.
Secretary—George L. Carrington.
Treasurer—Isaac Farnsworth.
Directors—S. C. Cobb, Alex. Graham, Dr. William H. Judd, L. B. Reynolds, Miss Lizzie Paterson, James E. Fifield, George L. Carrington, E. W. Lowell, S. B. Lewis, Archie Reid, F. M. Marzuff, H. F. Bliss.

These officers and directors stand behind every share of the association's stock. Five shares of this stock is now in the association's keeping subject to the Gazette's order. Polls will be open in the Gazette office March 1 and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

CLEAR EYES,

a clear skin, a clear head, a clear system—come from the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt.

Partly, because of its cleansing, purifying action upon the blood, and because of its solvent, strengthening, stimulating action upon the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels. It brings them back to a healthy, natural condition, in a natural way.

Habitual constipation, biliousness, loss of appetite, defective nutrition, dyspepsia—every one of these has a time-tried remedy in the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt. It is the actual water of the Sprudel Spring, solidified and put into powder form on the spot. For chronic catarrh of the stomach and other stomachic diseases use the imported Carlsbad Sprudel Water, and add a small dose of the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt to a tumblerful of the water whenever a laxative action is desired. Do not be imposed upon by unscrupulous dealers, who will sell you a mixture of Seidlitz Powder or Glauber Salt as "Improved Carlsbad Salt" or "Artificial Carlsbad Salt," "German Salt," or under other names.

Insist upon the genuine article, which must have the signature of "EISNER & MENDELSON CO., Sole Agents, New York," on every bottle.

B. Burbridge, and by the judge of said court sentenced to the state prison for the term of five years, which said application will be made on the 15th day of Mar. A. D. 1895, at 2 o'clock p. m. at the executive chamber in the state capitol in the city of Madison, Wisconsin.—Dated at Wausau, Wisconsin, Feb. 11, 1895. dzwfebsat
